MAUA BANK,
101—103 CALLE CANGALLO

The Offices of this Bank having been removed to the above spacious building, in order to suit the increasing flow of business, the public is informed that the following transactions are carried on in currency and specie in this Bank:—

First—Bills and obligations with good signatures are discounted on conventional terms.

Second—Money is advanced on mercantile and other securities approved of by the Manager.

Third—Accounts current are opened with Merchants or other parties who may prefer depositing endorsed and transferable securities, against which they may draw up to an amount previously convened under conditions established for such class of operations.

Fourth—Money is received in account current bearing interest from day of deposit, which is accumulated in favor of the parties every three months, the depositors being allowed to retire at any time, by means of cheques, part or the full amount at their wish, save when the quantity exceeds three hundred doubloons or one hundred thousand dollars currency in which case forty-eight hours' previous notice is required to be given to the Treasury of the Bank.

Fifth—Bills or letters of credit are drawn and taken on Montevideo, Rosario, Sta Fé, Salto Oriental, Paysandu, Rio Janeiro, and other places in the Brasils, England and France, as also on other places, of which notice will be given hereafter.

Finally, the Bank undertakes and executes all legitimate transactions within the orbit of banking operations.

The establishment is always open from 10 a.m till 3 p.m.

It being an admitted fact, that "Money makes money," the object of LA BIENHECHORA could not be better, since it opens a vast Savings Bank for the surplus or savings of the Public, so that, by the proper employment of these small gains, a moderate capital, or even annuity, may be secured in a short time. By this means a provident, though helpless, family can husband their small means, and, in the end, attain a competency.

It being proved that the accumulation of interest is the most powerful means of augmenting the capital, THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA—an Argentine Company, whose only investments are in the country—holds out to Subscribers greater advantages than any other Institution, by reason of all its dealings being in the River Plate, where are current as large interests as in any part of the world.

THE BIENHECHORA DEL PLATA receives Deposits of from Five Patacones per Annum up to any amount in Weekly, Monthly, or Yearly Instalments.

RECIPROCAL SECTION.

Shares of 10 fuertes, or $250 currency each,
Divisible in fractions of 2 fuertes or $50 currency, each.

THIRD DIVIDEND.
DRAWING on 30th of DECEMBER 1871.

—o—

The Drawing of the Dividends, corresponding to the first six months of the present year, will take place on the 30th of JUNE next.

Owing to the fact that the business of the Society has increased largely, and has been invested advantageously since the 1st of January of this year, the

to be drawn for at the conclusion of the present Half-year will be far more considerable than those of the last Drawing.

In the Drawing of the 30th of December ult., one of the Shares, worth 10 fuertes, drew the sum of 1,000 fuertes, which was the highest premium, since the amount of the profits of the first Six months of the Society's existence amounted to 3,000 fuertes, the balance of 2,000 fuertes being divided into five dividends of 100 fuertes, 10 of 50 fuertes, and 40 of 20 fuertes each.

In the present

the highest dividends will be far greater than in the last, and will be increasing at every succeeding

DIVIDEND.

The holder of a Share of 10 fuertes, equal to 250 dollars currency, not only secures this sum, which will be returned to him at the expiration of five years, but he will moreover, by means of his slender amount, which, from its smallness was unproductive and easily wasted, on objects of no importance, acquire a right to share in the profits that are drawn for every six months, the largest of which, that in December 1870 was 1,000 fuertes, being likely to increase to

10,000, 20,000, and 30,000
PATACONS.

Any shareholder, who at the end of the five years, instead of withdrawing his capital, prefers to renew his share and continue to take his chance of being favored by fortune with some of the dividends drawn per Half-yearly, has the privilege of doing so.

As is well-known the capital of the shares, as well as the profits thereby accruing, are deposited, in accordance with the Statutes of the Society, in the Provincial Exchequer, in the shape of Mortgage Securities, under the surveillance of the who is giving the most absolute guarantees to the operations of the Society.

Any Shareholder having 100 fuertes or more, as Shares, and preferring to receive an interest of 10 per cent for his money, instead of taking his chance of Drawing a Dividend, may at any time exchange his shares at par for a Bond of INTERNATIONAL MORALITY.

The question that the Argentine Minister of Foreign Affairs has raised respecting the claims of foreigners for damages sustained during the revolt in Entre Rios, suggests the propriety of a short dissertation on International Morality, the more so since we find that in the very able note of Dr. Tejedor to Mr. McDonnell, British Chargé d'Affaires, much stress is laid on certain alleged new principles of International Law, but the learned Doctor does not say one word about international morality. Perhaps he thinks he has made out his case clear enough; we for our part must confess that the only weak point in His Excellency's note is, that he proves TOO MUCH.

No matter what the Minister may urge to the contrary, all must admit that the triumph of the Government in Entre Rios is dearly bought when it is purchased by the ruin of many hardworking and industrious, foreign, estancieros; and although lawyers and ministers may wish to restrict the question of claims to mere abstract law, public opinion will join with us when we assert that there is a moral side to the subject which should not be overlooked. The chief difficulty we find in dealing with this question of foreign claims is to remember that their repudiation was attempted during the administration of the most enlightened President that the Argentine Republic has ever had; could we but travel from the high road of facts and suppose that some imaginary special pleader ruled the country we might better understand the line which is attempted to be drawn between the honor of the nation and the rights of foreigners, both of which appear to us to be equally sacrificed. It is to be observed, however, that Dr. Tejedor in quoting his authorities for repudiating these claims, gives us the law in Italy backed by the decision of Russia, countries where International Morality is but little understood, and where grave political errors have much contributed to the misfortunes of the people.

History abounds with proofs that injustice done to individuals is frequently of service to the public; the most dangerous principles are oftentimes overlooked, but facts alarm the people, and perhaps when the thinking few of the Argentine nation measure the possible results of the new "Tejedorian" policy, they will shrink from a proceeding which they could neither assent to with honor, nor carry out with success.

We disclaim the intention of saying anything calculated to personally annoy the Argentine Minister, who is admitted to be an able lawer, and well and favourably known to us all; but we, indeed, regret that as a Minister he has become distinguished by departing from time-honored precedents. Such notoriety is perhaps the less enviable, since it identifies his name with measures which in after years he would willingly forget. The principles upon which this new policy of the Government rest, are slippery, and it requires more than mere argument; it calls for the evidence of the senses, to persuade resident foreigners in the La Plata that their rights in time of trouble and commotion are simply nil. Nor will it escape the observation of people in Europe that a man so conspicuous for a policy of repudiation should still retain his portfolio as foreign minister.

There is immense difficulty in briefly and clearly defining what is meant by the term 'International morality.' Hobbs, perhaps the greatest writer on this subject, says, that organized nations assume the personal character of men, and consequently that there is no difference between the moral rules which ought to be observed by nations, and those which ought to be observed by individuals; but after all the analogy between nations and individuals seems to be every way imperfect; man is restrained from crime by the fear of punishment in a future world; the loss of honor, of reputation, of self-esteem, the feelings of religion, of conscience, of pride, are the most powerful of human motives. It is only the outcasts of society who are kept down by the terror of the prison or the scaffold. But to attempt to bind nations by mere moral restraints is to fetter giants with cobwebs. To the greatest of human restraints, the fear of a hereafter, they are insensible. Nations have no existence beyond the grave. The fear of loss of reputation, is certainly moral restraint, and among nations that desire to be respected or esteemed, a considerable one. It appears after all, however, that the fear of physical evil, the fear of injury to the persons or properties of the members of the community, is the principal restraint on the conduct of nations.

When an individual attempts to break municipal laws he expects to escape detection, and he generally knows the punishment or amount of evil which, if he be detected, is sure to follow. A nation never escapes detection, and never can estimate the amount of suffering it may incur. The law of nations appears at first sight to resemble those of Draco: it seems to have only one punishment for every offence; but that punishment may vary from a passing inconvenience to the utmost evil that man can endure from man; and it is the fear of such dangers that generally prevents deliberate breaches of international law. The principles of international morality, as distinguished from international law, are to be arrived at, not by applying to nations the rules which ought to govern individuals, but by ascertaining what are the rules of international conduct which on the whole best promote the happiness of the people.

It is by long meditation on the experience of many centuries, that the wiser portion of European nations have discovered the mischievousness of war, the folly of commercial jealousies, of restrictions and prohibitions, and the expediency of abstaining from plunder of neutral or foreigners' property, whether on land or sea.

There are certainly very marked distinctions between international morality and international law.

International morality is unalterable, although it sometimes may appear to change when new circumstances arise; but right is right always. International law, on the contrary, is liable to varied interpretations and many changes.

International morality is independent of authority — all understand it, and it requires no legal acumen to defend it. The expositor of international morality benefits mankind by teaching what international law ought to be. the expositor of international law by showing what it is, or craftily attempting to shape it to his own liking by quoting new precedents.

International morality points to such triumphs as the settlement of the Alabama question.

International law to such quibbles as this Entre Riano affair.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

On Tuesday Governor Castro opened the Provincial Legislature and read his usual Message, which we condense as follows—

Messrs. Senators and Deputies:

The dreadful epidemic which has just passed over our city is the cause that your Hon. Chambers have been unable, this year, to open at their usual time. The public anxiously hope that your first care will be to provide those remedial measures which may prevent a recurrence of these frequent and terrible visitations.

The Government regrets being unable to give you a complete report of all official business since May 1870: the epidemic and extra press of business have prevented us, but the reports of the Ministers will shortly appear, with full details.

Our relations have been most amicable with the National Government and sister Provinces. In the Entre-Rios war we aided the National Executive with 4 battalions, two of which have returned home, the province of Entre Rios being now re-oganized.

The Convention began its sittings on May 23rd 1870, but during the epidemic most of the members went to the country. Last month they resumed their enlightened deliberations.

In my Message last year I called attention to the necessity of remodelling the Law Courts, but, as the Convention has not yet concluded, it may be better to postpone this matter for a while. Meantime some measure should be at once passed to facilitate the proceedings of our Civil Courts; the number of law-suits is so great that we want six Judges, instead of three.

We have given every attention to public instruction, building new schools, bringing out mistresses from the United States, and establishing two Kinder-Gartens. The Government is ably assisted by the Rector of the University, Chief of Schools, and Beneficencia Society. Some new Engineers admitted last year have begun their career by aiding in Messrs. Bateman & Revy's port surveys, and their next task will be putting up the iron bridges ordered from England for the camp arroyos.

The number of orphans is so increased of late that I have ordered a new Orphanage to be erected near the Convalecencia. With regard to the proposed new city hospital I have purchased a site of 2 manzanas (8 acres) for the purpose.

A great Indian invasion occurred last year, when numbers of settlers were killed or carried off captives, and a large booty taken We, thereupon, applied to the National Government to aid us in establishing a frontier line along the Negro or Colorado, but the Entre-Riano war prevented any action in the matter. The present frontier service is done by National Guards from the various Partidos, and in this matter a reform is much needed.

The organization of the Municipality of Buenos Ayres is now very difficult, owing to the utter neglect of the public to vote at the elections. The Government is, therefore, obliged to appoint a Committee to act as a Municipality. In last year's Message I pointed to the necessity of remodelling the Municipality, since in its present form it is comparatively useless, especially in times of trial. Nevertheless we have reason to congratulate the Committee who acted as a Municipality during the epidemic, doing their duty manfully. The Municipal Committee now about to enter office will fund itself like its predecessor, without finds or Legislative permission to tax, which calls for your immediate notice.

In the month of January the first cases of Yellow Fever occurred in San Telmo parish, spreading afterwards all over the city as a fearful epidemic. The Government adopted such measures as the Board of Health suggested, and gave every aid to the sufferers.

A decree for stopping the Saladeros was issued on Feb. 14th., and then a project for cleansing the Riachuelo, besides another for a subterranean tunnel. These matters, as well as Puiggari's petition for another year, await your consideration; the Saladero question involves the chief industry of the country. The Riachuelo is much improved since the vessels have been stopped from throwing dirt into it.

During the epidemic I caused all the schools to be closed, gave free tickets on the W. Railway to all public employees, converted numbers of goods-waggons into temporary dwellings, constructed wooden huts along the line, gave food gratis to the occupants, reduced the railway fares, and finally decreed a vacation of 20 days, to clear the city. Thanks to these efforts the plague abated in the end of April.

For the relief of the sick poor I appointed physicians and dispensaries to provide them with medicines gratis, established the lazzarettos, and opened a new cemetery of the Chacarita in connection by rail with the city. All these expenses have not been covered by the 10 millions you voted last March, and as my demand for a further 10 millions could not be taken under consideration I called on the Bank for an open credit of 3 millions, to be refunded as soon as your Chambers met.

The services rendered during the epidemic by the Board of Health, Chief of Police and staff, and Western Railway deserve all praise; as also the labors of the parochial boards and Comision Popular. Nor can we forget the noble sympathy shewn us by Montevideo, Chile, Paraguay, Brazil, United States and England.

The financial condition of the Province is prosperous, the revenue every day increasing, and leaving a surplus. Nevertheless the prospects for the coming year are alarming, since the epidemic has upset everything.

The Budget is yet awaiting your sanction, and we have been obliged to go on some time without it. The tax on Stamped Paper is my only present resource.

The epidemic has nowise affected our credit abroad. In the Finance Memoria you will read of the success of the Dominguez loan in London, the stock reaching a high premium, at which it is stationary. The bulk of the money is in the Provincial Bank, a part having been spent on the Merlo and Lobos Railway, and some in the Port surveys and an order for Dredges from England.

The Provincial Bank continues to render great services to the commercial public.

The Port surveys have been concluded and submitted to the National Government, to combine with us towards this great work.

The documents will be submitted to you along with the surveys of San Pedro and the Riachuelo.

The vote of thirty millions for camp bridges has not all been employed, since twenty four millions are found to be enough. Mr. Luis A. Huergo made the contract in London; a part of the materials has arrived, and before long we shall have 120 new bridges over the various arroyos.

In fulfilment of your law of September 26th, 1870, Mr. Bateman has been commissioned to draw up a report for Drainage, Water-supply and paving of the city. Mr. B's. agent may soon be expected, to make the surveys, his delay being caused by the epidemic.

Last year I mentioned an arrangement with the National Government to have one telegraph line in common from San Nicolas to Rosario, but afterwards I found it better to lay down a line for ourselves.

The various railways show increased traffic and receipts: all display great regularity except the Northern. The Southern has been prolonged to the Salado; the Western to Lobos.

The tramways, though not perfect, render immense service to the city public. New concessions are every day asked for, especially to the suburbs; but as the Legislature has not given me powers, the enterprises are paralyzed.

Messrs, Waring Bros., of London, have made a very suitable offer to construct a railway, via Planchon, to Chile. One batch of their engineers is already in Chile; the other is now arranging to start from here across the Pampas, for which purpose President Sarmiento has promised me he will provide a suitable escort.

EMILIO CASTRO.

Ex-Governor Carril, of San Juan, took the oaths and his seat in the Senate on Tuesday.

OUR PARIS LETTER.

June 3, 1871.

The Punch and Judy shows, the merry-go-rounds are in full swing in the Champs Elysees, although the air still smells of gunpowder and petroleum. There is a general cleaning up everywhere. The walls are being scraped and washed, to remove the tattered fragments of the late Commune's proclamations. There is no red emblem anywhere to be met with—the city is of accord to give three cheers for the red, white and blue. The minor barricades have disappeared, and the larger ones are being levelled. The chiffoniers are in clover—they empty the bags of earth and sand for the sacking; bags made by thousands of women, as well as the girls' schools, directed by the Commune's Minister of Public Instruction. Cabs are creeping to their station, and the drivers sleep on their seats under the blazing sun, as forgetful of last week, as if no earthquake of ruin had shaken Paris to its foundations, and stunned the world with a rebound. Painters and glaziers whistle cheerily as they labor to obliterate the traces of the struggle; the indentations made by the balls are closed up with putty and smeared with a first coating. The gas is reappearing in proportion as the pipes are tested—the water is being laid on—and candles blaze, despite the Curfew bell regime necessarily in operation. The Phœnix appears to have really risen from the ashes. The cafes are well frequented, proof of confidence in McMahon. The customers of these establishments no longer sit like statues, or converse in bated breath. They are free men, and enjoy with a Voltarian grin the repossession of their accustomed haunts and habitudes The ladies too appear to have overcome the first paroxysm of their grief. Their deep mourning has given place to lavender and violet—it was a courtly affectation—a sorrow confined to a few days, which is strange, seeing that the Republic still exists, and Spartan institutions are assumed to hold sway. The Thracians were merry over their death-fetes. Short-commons nowhere exist—the city seems to flow with milk and honey, not much of the latter at Belleville however, where the working bees have been driven from their hives. The journals are reappearing rapidly, despite a decree from McMahon. But they are old friends. Among the earliest of the revivals is the Journal des Debats, so France can boast now of one common sense newspaper. The coster-mongers' carts trundle along the highways and byways attracting crowds to purchase fish, flesh and fowl. The flagways are no longer blocked up with Bohemian dealers, nor are the boulevards a vast bazaar, without any attraction. The police are to be met with in the well to-do quarters—the soldiers preserve the peace in the districts where the revolution was born and expired.

Some social inconveniences still exist, which a few days will remove or correct. Letters come and go irregularly—newspapers from outside are few and far between. Postage stamps are exhausted, and the postmen are reduced in number, having had to shoulder rifles. Worse still, sufficient in itself to justify a revolution, the supply of tobacco has been exhausted: tobacconists have shut up shop, informing all whom it may concern that stocks are exhausted. A sous cigar cannot be obtained for a franc, and the Prussians, ever mindful, have succeeded in sending in some vile Hamburg weeds—to suck a few would be sufficient punishment for an unfortunate Communist.

The omnibusses are commencing to resume traffic, and look smart, after being made as good as new, which was necessary, as they served as ammunition waggons, ambulances, hearses, &c. All strangers are requested to make themselves known to the authorities, and reveal as much of their inner life as may be demanded. The great storm has swept by, but absolute calm has not yet succeeded. Women and girls have still the habit of firing from windows or stabbing the soldiers; in the former case, every tenant in the house is seized en bloc till the culprit be found. A similar collective responsibility is in force if arms be found concealed. Hardly a night passes but some victims of vengeance are made. In the Faubourg du Temple, the remains of two gentlemen were discovered in the street, cut up into morsels; but if people will persist in not turning into bed at eleven o'clock, as requested, they must expect and put up with the consequences.

In the Belleville and La Chapelle districts the fury of the women against the soldiers who do patrol duty is expressed in every form without actual blows. Even in the best-disposed quarters, the 'feelings of gratitude' for the deliveries are waxing cold. A week, after all, is a great trial for French constancy.

Recall Cavaignac's position after June, 1848; he was first smothered in laurels, and soon placed under cypresses.

In the insurrection of 1871, the most curious incident is the position of Marshal MacMahon. The authorities have certainly not spoiled him with praise for fear of offending his rival [Thiers] in military strategy, perhaps. He has singularly been spared in the Communistic journals. In the military misfortunes of France since July last, he alone appears the Bayard above reproach. He speculates in nothing at the expense of the country. He has been no intriguer—he whines over no foolish plan, like Trochu—has made no idiotic boasts, like Ducrot, of returning from battle dead or victorious, and doing neither. When Thiers described Bazaine a few days ago as 'a mighty warrior,' he surely intended to name MacMahon.

Whit Sunday all the chapels opened under difficulties, and the congregations struck you as being exceptionally devout. Some of the altars were bare, their ornaments having been taken away and melted down, others had theirs brought forth from hiding places. Shell and ball marks were visible inside as well as outside the edifices, and not a few organs were silent owing to fearful rents in the pipes. Evidences of military occupation were in some instances visible—the straw which served for bedding was only hastily pushed aside, and pots and canteens, with the debris of clothing and arms piled in corners. Nearly all the clergy appeared with beards and moustaches of the month's growth, recalling Oriental priests, and a few padres, wore under their canonicals, the clothes they were supplied with before being shot at Roquette, as intended.

There is a pilgrimage just now to the residence of the late Archbishop to see his remains, which lie in state. The mortuary chapel is hung in black and silver, and richly illuminated with wax lights. Nuns pray around the catafalque night and day, and a clergyman periodically offers up prayers for the dead. The body is clothed in sacerdotal robes; the features are unusually pale, but have a touching expression of calm and resignation; on his brow is a white mitre. His beard exists, such as he allowed it to grow during his captivity; his eyelids are closed, and his hands in white gloves rest on each side of the body. There is another catafalque to the left of the archbishop's, but the coffin, covered with black cloth and silver mountings, is closed. It contains the remains of Mgr. Surat, too horribly mutilated by the execution to be displayed. The Madeleine has also a 'chapelle ardente,' where the remains of its deeply lamented vicar, also assassinated, are exposed. It appears that a selection of the public was admitted to view the execution of the 'soutanes.'

It was a providential circumstance that the Commune in their last stronghold had no supplies of gunpowder and petroleum, or they might have kept the troops at bay while sending over Paris balls of fire. At Pere Lachairse the evidences of the final stand are painfully clear. Several of the beautiful express tress that shaded the boulevards of the city of the dead are destroyed, and some of the most costly mausoleums an unrecognizable mass. The splendid tomb of the Duc de Morny was converted into a magazine, and the 'west end' of this city was equally everywhere profaned. Even now the soldiers cook their food in the 'house tombs.' Such residences have been gutted of their vases, crucifixes chairs, &c., which lie strewn about, with coffins broken up. The Last Day will only reveal who were their occupants. Only one of the guardians of the cemetery sided with the insurgents, and was arrested when the troops took the positions. Before being led to execution, he requested permission to embrace the remains of Dombrouski, which were awaiting burial. Several National guards are believed to be secreted in the vaults, and when discovered are at once shot. It is not a matter of doubt that hundreds of these unfortunates are hiding in the catacombs, where they will be left till death relieves their agonies. There are numerous unburied insurgents lying scattered over Père Lachaise, in one spot 136; a sickening contrast with the exposed remains of the devastated sepulchres and pools of caked blood.

Wholesale executions are becoming small by degrees, and Justice, not ferocious passion, is taking the prisoners in hand. The few prisoners now passing through the streets are not so brutally treated. There is no pity for deserters from the army. But of all the arrested, the women continue to give most trouble to the escort. One dame aged seventy bolted three times, and was told she would be shot if she made another attempt; she did so, and was instantly killed. The appearance of the women, like the men, is as a rule unfavourable, and strikes one as belonging to the dangerous classes; they have the air of being hard drinkers, and their language is most revolting. One woman was particularly prominent a few days ago; she had half of her hand cut off by a sabre cut, and held it out in all its gore, threatening against the soldiers. In the last stage of the Commune's mad ending, women played not only a conspicuous, but a terrible part. We know that to them was assigned the 'patriotic duty' of reducing Paris to ashes, and the mountains of ruins attest how well they did their work. There was a battalion of amazons who wore crape on their kepis, and regarded the symbol as one to avenge the death of a lover or relative. It was this battalion that carried off a mitrailleuse when the Hotel de Ville was in flames. They looped up their 'jupons' to their scarlet sashes, in which was stuck a pair of revolvers: they rolled up their sleeves to their shoulders, and with hideous shouts trailed the horrible machine to a barricade. And many of these females were but frail, sickly girls! There was another corps who were all dressed in mourning, preceded by a woman who carried the head of a girl with long hair, attached to a pole; this extraordinary standard-bearer was afterwards killed at the barricade of the Place Vendome. Nearly all the female prisoners are sent to the hulks, where they will expiate their sentences. The men will be shipped off to some of the penal settlements—will see that Cayenne to avoid which nerved many a desperado to court death. It is useless alluding to the insurgents' losses since the 18th of March. Versailles admits having 40,000 prisoners; the killed and wounded may be set down at less than one-half of this total, and the loss of the besiegers at nearly one-fourth of it.

Among the foreigners executed, a register of whose name is kept, the majority were Poles, next Italians, then Spaniards and Portuguese. I find no English except a Miss Carroll, who made translations from the American and English journals for the Communal official organ, and no Americans except a Surgeon Witton, from New York; as for Cleuseret, he was American by naturalization. The wounded insurgents, when discharged, are arrested, and have to appear before the Court-martial.

One of the Communists—Tony Moilin—sentenced to be executed demanded a respite of fifteen minutes to marry his mistress and legitimize his child. His prayer was granted; the legal civil marriage took place, followed by the execution: General Endes pursued the same line of conduct when sentenced to death last August, and was snatched from the jaws of death by the revolution. He is now awaiting his fate at Versailles. His wife, who was a 'colonelle' and directress of the corps of 'petroleuses,' was killed by three balls while defending a barricade. Her sister was shot, having been found with a flask of burning fluid concealed in a bouquet, and some fire balls in her pocket charged with dynamite. A mortuary chapel is to be erected to the memory of Generals Thomas and Lecomte.

The dead are nearly all buried—some in the public squares, but who cannot boast of even a shallow grave, as the remains are in some instances visible, Quick lime is strewn in great quantities over the dead, and even petroleum. No pestilence is anticipated, the preventive measures taken being considered satisfactory. Explosions take place in the city, causing much apprehension as well as noise: it is the engineers blowing down the tottering walls of the burned houses, which continue to be well patronized by the curious. The Tuileries will have to be rebuilt from the foundation, and for the Hotel de Ville new plans may be required. The losses in the way of private houses are very severe.

Politically, the situation of France is very discouraging. The alleged fusion of the Legitimists and the Orleanists may be seen in the party debates of the Assembly, where the state of the nation is the last thing thought of. The Bonapartists are also determined to have a struggle for the misfortunes of France; while the Republic is resolved to combat both, and if M Thiers but holds truthfully to his latest political transformation, he can save France in sustaining the Republic.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Municipal Electoral College met on Tuesday and named a new Corporation for the city. There seems to be a good deal of 'new blood' in the Municipality just elected; it remains to be seen, however, if it is worth much. The result of the 'terna' for Lord Mayor left Mr. Olivera, President of the Rural Society, at the head of the poll, Mr. N. M. de Hoz, coming second, and Mr. Cazon third. The new President of the Municipality is in every way the right man in the right place, and we may expect some improvement in civic affairs under his administration. Mr. Martinez de Hoz, whose retirement we announced yesterday, deserves very high praise for the indefatigable attention which he gave to his duties as President of the Municipality during the plague; no President had ever a harder task to discharge, and none could have accomplished such thankless labour with greater individual credit than Mr. de Hoz.

The auction sale of Mr. Hector Varela's furniture, which was advertized to commence to-morrow has been postponed until Monday next.

Mr. Fulton Mendez' celebrated steamer Archimedes, arrived in port on Tuesday from Scotland; she left Glasgow on the 10th February, thus making the voyage in five months. It must be remembered, however, that she came the whole way under sail, remained for several days at Cork, and met fearful weather on the voyage out. The fact of such a cockle-shell making the voyage at all is quite a feat, but she was manned by British sailors,

The La Plata will sail on Saturday with the mails for Europe. The Packet Edition of the STANDARD will be published on Friday at 12 o'clock.

We hear of a well-known broker who lost exactly one dozen of silk hats in bets against the La Plata's coming out with the June mails.

The 'newest thing in envelopes' has just been struck off in London for the STANDARD. The face of the envelope bears the Argentine colours; the address being printed on the white stripe in the centre. The clerks in the post-office went into patriotic ecstacies yesterday at sight of the envelope, when sorting an enormous correspondence for Standard Court.

Mr. Leon Isaac, The Managing Director of the City of Buenos Ayres Tramway Company has petitioned the Municipality to allow some materials for that company to be piled on the beach till required for use.

The Provincial Chambers were opened with the usual formalities on Tuesday. We refer to the Governor's Message in another column.

A friend in Santiago sends us an account of the late disturbances in that city. It throws some light on the affair, and will appear in our next issue.

Some of the parochial Health Commissioners have now established a daily inspection of the milk sold in their districts. The Balvanera inspectors captured from dairymen the other day 19 cases, the contents of which came, in most unjustifiable proportion, from the pump. The fluid was spilt in the street, 'pour encourager les autres.'

The 'Immigration Commissioners have addressed a circular to the Argentine Consuls abroad, announcing the cessation of the epidemic, and setting forth the advantages this country offers to new settlers. We are not disposed to deny that the River Plate is in itself the 'ne plus ultra' of a field for emigration; but when Dr. Tejedor's new code of international morality becomes known in Europe, it is just possible that the emigrating classes of the Old World may perceive that one of the 'privileges' enjoyed by foreign settlers in this incomparable part of the earth is that of 'paying the piper' when the natives choose to quarrel amongst themselves. We know of no other land where such an inducement is held out to foreigners.

Dr. Garrigos and Mr. Arocena have been named by Government to the seats left vacant at the Bank Board by the deaths of Dr. Roque Perez and Mr. Martinez de Hoz.

Our native colleagues seldom attempt the publication of a joke; however, they all seem to have pounced on a grim semblance to one yesterday. "The 'Administrador de Limpieza' has just sent in to the Municipality a claim for 215,000 dollars currency, for work and labour done by his department." This cool functionary is evidently "a fellow of infinite jest and humour," and deserves to be paid, if only to prove what success effrontery can achieve. A joke is a joke, but it is really no joke for the unfortunate tax-payers to pay such sums for living in the most neglected city in the world.

The following paragraphs from English papers may interest our readers:

—"The Right Hon. the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade have received from the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a notice of the Portuguese Government, declaring the port of Rio Janeiro free from yellow fever since April 22 last.

"Mr. Edward Banfield, manager of the Great Southern Railway of Buenos Ayres, has just been elected an Associate of the Institution of Civil Engineers.

"At the eighth ordinary general meeting of the English Bank of Rio de Janeiro, held on May 31, a dividend of 12s. per share was declared. This, in addition to the dividend of 8s. paid in December last, is equal to a dividend for the whole year of 10 per cent. on the paid-up capital of the bank, free of income-tax."

The great social event of yesterday was of a hymeneal character, and created an immense sensation in fair, fashionable, and foreign circles. Mr. William Wilson, son of Dr. Wilson, of Las Delicias, B. O., led to the bridal altar Miss Annie Margaret McLean, of the quinta de los Corazones, the lovely and accomplished daughter of the late Patrick McLean, Esq., one of the first British merchants in the River Plate. The ceremony was performed at 440 Drabble Row, by the Rev. Mr. Smith, Scotch Pastor, in presence of some of the leading families of the city. The happy couple left for Flores in the afternoon to pass the honey-moon. It was remarked that the names of the ancestral homes of both bride and bridegroom are emblematic of the happiest future for the newly wedded pair.

The Montevideans are still collecting money for the poor of Buenos Ayres, though, since the plague first broke out they have sent us over 70,000 patacons. Charity is certainly practised as well as preached in the sister city.

The well known ship Don Diego entered port on Monday last from London with a valuable cargo; she was in collision with the French ship Saint Pierre off Ensenada, during the recent fog, and sustained some damage.

The Gas Company are about to lay down pipes along Calles Charcas and Santa Fe to Calle Callao.

Next Tuesday a funeral mass for the victims of the epidemic will be celebrated in the Cathedral at noon. The Municipality have invited all the religious bodies in town to the ceremony, which is expected to be of a most imposing kind.

There was considerable excitement caused at the last sitting of the Convention by a motion made by Dr. Rawson, the O'Connell of Buenos Ayres, to the effect that every clause of the New Constitution must be approved by two thirds of the Convention. After some exciting remarks from all sides of the House, the motion was referred to a select committee.

There were four deaths from small-pox in the city on Monday.

The Honorary Secretary of the Ranchos Steeple-chase Club, Mr. Arthur King, requests us to state that 'all matters relative to the Ranchos Steeple-chase Club have been gone into at a meeting held this date [the 10th]. A general meeting is called for the 20th inst., and the next steeple-chases are to come off on August 15th, wet or dry." We have to return our best thanks to the Committee for wishing to add our names to their list of members. It is so long, however, since we last attempted anything in the 'cross country' way, that we have forgotten our canning in the 'pigskin,' and are not as well able as formerly

The Prensa says that quarantine will be again imposed on all vessels touching at Bahia, as yellow fever is still afflicting that port.

The same paper announces that another English daily will shortly make its appearance, as the organ of the agricultural colonies throughout the Republic. This is the first we have heard of this exclusively bucolic contemporary.

The disappearance of a great number of children of the poorer classes latterly has attracted the attention of the police. It is surmised there is a general plan amongst the criminal classes at large in the city to carry out an organised system of child-stealing.

The July festivities in Rosario were a complete fiasco. One dozen rockets and two paper balloons were sent up from the Plaza, which was dimly illuminated: 'voila tout!'

The Rosario papers salute the United States Minister to Paraguay, Mr John L. Stevens, who arrived at that port on Sunday, on board the United States gunboat Wasp, 'en route' for Asuncion. Mr. Stevens goes merely to present his credentials to the President of the Paraguayan Republic, and will not remain more than ten days or a fortnight in that country.

The Police Commissaries gave a grand dinner to their chief, Dn. Enrique O'Gorman, at the Hotel de la Paz, on Monday evening. Covers were laid for 40, and the 'menu' was in every way worthy of the reputation enjoyed by our friend, Marechal the Great. All present made speeches, so it is not surprising that 'the feast of reason and flow of soul' lasted till near midnight, when the guest of the evening departed, being escorted home by his entertainers.

A disgraceful scene took place in the Alcazar at Montevideo one night last week. A young scamp amongst the audience got up a 'pas seul' on his seat to the stirring can-can music being played by the orchestra. This excited two members of the 'demi monde' in the boxes, who soon got up a quarrel, and went into the lobby to 'have it out.' Some handfuls of hair torn out, two mantillas in tatters, and a pretty black eye made blacker still by a 'hit from the shoulder,' were the results before the arrival of the police, who lodged the fair termagants in jail till next morning, when the interference of some 'friends' procured their release on payment of a smart fine.

Mr. Ernest Ronquand has solicited authorization from the National Government to establish two agricultural colonies at Patagonia, on the banks of the Santa Cruz River.

Information is requested regarding the present abode of Mr. William H. Scobele, an English engineer, who resided at one time in this city. After the naval engagement of June, 1865. Mr. Scobele, at that time in the Paraguayan service, was captured by the Brazilians; and is known to have acted subsequently as engineer on board of various steam-vessels navigating these rivers. Any person, enabled to furnish intelligence respecting Mr. Scobele, is requested to communicate the same to Her Britannic Majesty's Legation.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE.

Of all departments of the Customs arrangements in other countries of the world, none more than that in which the value of goods is assessed or quality determined is less time occupied in the despatch of goods, being effected almost in the hour of application.

Such, indeed, is the experience of merchants in great commercial countries as England, the United States and France—widely different is the rule in Buenos Ayres, where an abnormal system prevails.

The houses which import goods lose on an average seven days before they can dispatch them from the warehouses of the Custom House; from one to two days of this valuable time are lost before the necessary forms are prepared in the offices, very frequently a greater delay. Four or five days is again absorbed waiting the opportunity and pleasure of the 'Vista.' This official has to be waited on about the hours of 11.30 a.m. in the morning or 3.30 in the afternoon, and you may see this official at both these hours, yet not know whether it is in his power to do you the favour of examining your goods. This functionary finds that your merchandise is the only lot he has to examine and despatch in the same deposit, while he has several lots of other houses who are equally pressing in a totally different direction, the Customs warehouses being far removed, and thus it is not until the number increases in each, do you receive attention. It is true that on rare occasions you may perchance be more fortunate—this is a rare exception. The 'Vista' knows that it is only by the accumulation process that he can easily or possibly discharge his duties, and to the serious loss and great inconvenience of merchants. This official is quite indifferent to this, he has no interest in common with them. Owing to this another grievance arises; all wish to have their goods carted at the same moment, and the clerks are now clamouring for precedence in having their goods discharged with two or three peons to do this work. The goods very often cannot be discharged on the same day, as frequently two elapse before goods despatched are discharged. If the import trade of this capital has increase and doubled, it is evident that more 'vistas' are required to the same extent. The Administrador is continually nearing complaints, while he does all the very little he can, and shows that so many 'bultos' are despatched, allotting so many to each of his eight 'Vistas,' proving to his own satisfaction, not to that of the merchant, that there is an ample number for all the work.

The importer knows by increasing experience that little, if any, improvement or remedy can be looked for in the direction of the Customs itself. The merchants are a very tolerant body, particularly so under the conviction that reform is impossible in so chronic an institution. Why is this vicious circle permitted to go on and widen in its pernicious influences? Who is responsible for its continuance? Petitions have already been made months ago to the new Minister of the Government! What action has taken place?

One Minister has succeeded another Minister, and yet what has been done, or what is going to be done? It is only in this country where such things are possible. Is this a country of progress? The commercial interests are driven to seek a remedy through the medium of the press, in the hope that measures efficacious and complete will be adopted to remove a scandal and an intolerable grievance, which is from day to day assuming proportions more and more notorious and impracticable.

MERCHANT.

ON 'CHANGE.

July 12, 1871.

Ounces	400
Sovereigns	122½
Patacones	25
National Bonds	69¾

The Bond market ruled very flat to-day. During business hours 5000 were sold at 70 cash, but prices dropped. In the liquidation 15,000 were sold at 69¾ and 1200 at 69¾. Had any large amounts been thrown upon the market, prices would have given way still more, as the market is without the least animation. There are, at present no bears, owing to the difficulty of getting Bonds; but there are few buyers. The Government takes money still at 10 per cent., and this causes remark in the market, as it is known that it has large balances to its credit in the Bank.

Exchange ruled extremely flat to-day. The rate can only be quoted at 49½ to 49¾, but there was very little done. The fluctuations in exchange for this packet have been considerable. A merchant stated on 'Change to-day that he has taken exchange for the La Plata's mails, payable next Saturday, at 50½. Exchange on France ruled at 5.25 to 5.28.

The Governor's message on the opening of the Chambers was talked of; it is regarded as a plain straightforward statement of the affairs of the province and reads well. The Government it appears intends to issue bonds for whatever sanitary works may be ordered, but the credit of the province was never better, and whatever money it requires will be easily and cheaply obtained.

The Andes clears to-night, she has been somewhat delayed in taking in cargo owing to the dense fogs, some of the lighters being unable to make the steamer, she will however probably leave in the morning. She takes 1100 bales, 2000 hides, 100 barrels preserved beef and 200 boxes of oil, besides some tallow.

The Coquimbo, it appears, arrived in Montevideo on Tuesday night. Her news, politically speaking, is unimportent; everything quiet in Paris. Her market advices continue favourable, and all River Plate produce is at high quotations. The Coquimbo has brought out to the London and River Plate Bank a second remittance of £40,000 in gold; this shews the great care which the home directors take of the affairs of the bank out here, as they apprehended difficulty arising from the plague; the bank here, however, is so ably managed that it required no extraneous aid. The gold by the Coquimbo comes to the Montevidean branch of the River Plate Bank.

Advices from Cordova to day announce that Mr. Jager is arranging all the questions respecting the new Gas Company, and everything will be satisfactorily arranged. The materials for these works are now on the way out, and may be hourly expected.

On Friday there will be an important auction at Mr. Cernado's barraca, South Market: some Glasgow coal, also some prime lots of wool, sheep-skins, and tallow will be sold.

The Coquimbo advices from Rio give exchange there at 22⅝, and sovereigns at 10,600.

Sovereigns were bought to-day in this market at a premium of $2 m|o. and $2.4 m|c each, and cannot be obtained in large quantities under.

Money still rules easy, discount rates may be quoted at from 8 to 10 per cent. per annum.

Strange to say the Tichborne case has caused immense attention here, and even on the Bolsa the merits of the case are discussed with it. £100 to £10 was said to have been offered to-day that Tichborne is the man.

The Royal Steam-Packet Mail Company, we learn by the mail, has given to the Buenos Ayres Relief Fund the munificent sum of 100 guineas.

The large amount of Entre Riano Bonds in the hands of tradesmen and dealers it is thought will soon have an ascertained and market value, as there appears every probability that the new Entre-Riano loan will be negotiated, and out of the proceeds the Provincial floating debt of 700,000 fuertes will be paid off, the overdue interest on the Entre-Riano coupons. These Entre-Riano Bonds, some months ago, were offering at 78 per cent. discount, and even at that rate were difficult of negotiation.

The Provincial Government has named two new directors on the Provincial Bank board, to fill the vacancies caused by the deaths of Doctor Roque Perez and Don José Martinez de Hoz. Dr. Garrigos is brother-in-law to the National Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Dr. Tejedor is acting President of the Municipality, and a lawyer of great distinction: with such experience he ought to be a good judge of a bill and an excellent bank director. Mr. Arocena is not new to the commercial public, having in 1869 acted as President of the Provincial Bank, and is a man highly respected and esteemed in our commercial community.

There is inquiry for Roads and Bridges Stock. The very few bonds that were amortized show how limited is the extent of this debt. The numbers amortized were—97, 300, 363, 377, 192, and 197. The Government, however, will soon be called on to increase the emission, as bonds have to be paid to the Transandino Telegraph Company.

Repecting the Custom-house grievances which we complained of we are glad to say that our remarks have found echo in the proper quarter, and the Minister has ordered the peons to work on feast days. Still there are serious complaints about the robberies perpetrated in the deposits The matter has been laid before the Government, and steps are being taken.

M. Roquaud has applied to the Government for permission to start two new colonies at Patagonia. Permission, we understand, has been already given.

There appears to have been no insurance on the schooner Rosa, which was run down in the America the other day in the Parana.

A new 'vista' has been named in the Custom House, and the first result of his labors has been the discovery of some hardware houses that have been smuggling hardware, we suppose, stoves.

The van Praedh estancia auction takes place on Saturday. The Varela auction has been postponed until Monday.

Mr. Wattel, the general manager of the Billinghurst Tramways, will leave for England in the packet, in company with Mr. Billinghurst. The Billinghurst tramway lines are 9 miles of rail in exteut on wooden sleepers, and the price asked, we hear, is £350,000 sterling; there are 22 carriages and about 350 horses.

The last advices from Antwerp respecting the wool market are as follows—

R. P. Wool.—Private sales since 26th ult., 4,900 bales R. P. and 50 miscellaneous.—Arrivals 8,209 bales including —bales from European ports. Actual stock transit deducted 15,400 bales R. P. wool.

The article continues in good demand at last auction rates, which are finally maintained; combing wools, much enquired after, have an upwards tendency.

Movements of River Plate wool in Antwerp for five months ending May 31.—

	Imports	Sales	Transit
1870	62,100	38,800	4,100
1871	60,900	67,000	10,700

Regarding the new Wanklyn Bonds, the following resolution has been adopted by the Minister of Finance and Board of Public Credit:—

Public Credit Office,
Buenos Ayres, June 20th, 1871.

The members of the Public Credit Junta being assembled with the Finance Minister for the enrolment of the Wanklyn Bonds, (6 million $), it was stated:—

1st. That whereas the law of the 11th October, 1869, authorized the loan at any price over 70 in bonds, representing silver dollars of 17 per doubloon, and as this law was amended in June 1870, to the effect that the dollars should be 16 to the doubloon, and further that all the debt of the Republic should be changed from dollars of 17 to 16 per doubloon.

2nd. That the Junta had already contracted for the printing of the bonds in the amended form.

3rd. That said Bonds when received from the Argentine Minister in North America were found to have a trifling informality, inasmuch as instead of fixing the proper dates for payment of the coupons. It would appear for example that on January 8th, 1871, we paid the first quarter for that year, when in reality it was the last quarter of 1870.

4th. That this informality does no injury to the Treasury since the coupons are actually paid on the dates specified: but that as regards private transactions it might lead to mistakes which the State cannot allow to pass over in silence.

5th. That, meantime, the Government contract must be carried out according to law. And as these bonds have to be registered before July 1st to have the interest accrue, and there being no other bond at hand in the form of 16 to the doubloon, nor time to get new ones printed, it is hereby resolved to use the bonds received from North America, having first published this notice to prevent any misunderstanding as to the payment of the coupons of the 2nd, 3rd, and 4th quarters. And hereafter we intend to consult Congress as to whether it is expedient to convert National Bonds in the form laid down in spite of the error here noted, or whether we must get new bonds printed, in which latter case the holders of the six million Wanklyn Bonds will be obliged to change same.

6th. Don Julio A. Quintana is to help in signing the bonds.

Luis L. Dominguez, Minister of Finance.
Octavio Garrigos, Chairman.
Jose Maria Lozano.
Marcus Avellaneda.
Juan Dominguez, Sec.

The Royal Mail Company's fleet will this season be reinforced by the addition of three new steamers of the first class. One of these, the 'Tagus' has just had a trial trip at the measured mile at Stokes Bay, when she made over fourteen knots an hour. She is a splendid vessel, and has accommodation for 251 first-class passengers, 50 second, and 50 third, and can carry 1,000 tons of cargo. The main saloon is a handsome apartment, the full width of the ship, and, like every other part, fitted up with a due regard to the comfort and convenience of passengers. She is propelled by compound engines of 600 horse-power, similar to those in the company's steamers Ellyo and Tasmanian. The Tagus is appointed to take out the West India and Pacific mails from Southampton on May 17. The Mosello, a sister ship to the Tagus, is expected to be ready for sea in ten weeks; and the third new steamer, to be named the Boyne, of larger dimensions and less power, will be ready for service about October next.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the English Bank of Rio de Janeiro was held on May 31, at the offices, St Helen's Place, Bishopsgate, Mr. G. T. Brooking presiding. The report of the directors stated that the gross profits of the year amounted to £39,313, and the net profits to £32,190, inclusive of a balance of £4,534 brought over from the previous year. Out of this a dividend of 8s. per share was paid in December last, and the board now proposed dividing a further sum of £30,000, or 12s. per share, making a distribution of 20s. per share, or 10 per cent. The chairman, in moving the adoption of the report, said that since the meeting in December last, the business of the bank had been steadily progressing, and as the board thought the profits justified a payment on account, they made it, and sent out the dividend warrants, without troubling the shareholders to attend a meeting. The results of the financial year were now ascertained, and the board were in a position to recommend a distribution at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, which, with that already made, would amount to 10 per cent. for the year. After that payment there would be £12,190 to be carried forward as a nest egg for the future. The board recommend that course because they were anxious to equalise the dividends in future, and maintain a steady 10 per cent. The motion for adopting the report and accounts was seconded by Mr. Bevan. The report was adopted, and the dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. declared. A special resolution was agreed to authorising the transference of £60,000 to a reserve fund; and the retiring directors and auditors were re-elected.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND Co.
101--Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current we now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Maná & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes alerady mentioned, Sundays an holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositors a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM.

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. p. ∃) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds Twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishe can open an account current, according to the rules estabished by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

Hennessy's Brandy

The undersigned beg to inform the Public, that they have concluded arrangements with Messrs. JAMES HENNESSY and CO., To receive regular and constant supplies of their well-known Brnds of Cognac.

The first shipment has arrived, per "Sutlen, and is now on Sale.

This Brandy is so well known, and so fully appreciated by the English Consumers, that anything we could say to recommend it would be superfluous, and we would therefore simply draw attention to the following Table of Exports of Cognac from Charente to Great Britain, for the twelve months ending the 30th of June 1869:—

	Puncheons.	Cases.
James Hennessy and Co....	9,452	214,885
Martell	8,310	113,654
Ohard, Duphy, and Co.	2,668	8,541
Jules Duret and Co.	456	6,371
Jules Robin and Co.....	366	6.247
Sundries.....	13,034	198,042
Total.....	34,316	547,740

For the year ending 21st December, 1869 Hennessy exported to Great Britain 10,513 Puncheons and 282,768 Cases, being more than a third part of the total exports for the same destination.

In Great Britain, in Australia, and in India Hennessy's Brandy commands the preference, and fetches a higher price than any other Brand.

As a protection against falsifications, our name is attached to Messrs. Hennessy's Trade Label.

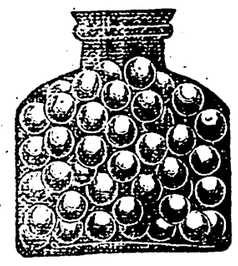
HEALTH RESTORED.
BY THE USE OF
BRISTOL'S SUGAR COATED VEGETABLE PILLS.

These Pills have justly acquired a widely extended reputation for their wonderful cures of severe cases of sickness—cases in which all other Medicines had failed, and which had been given up by Physicians as beyond help—such as confirmed and long-standing Liver Complaints, obstinate cases of Piles, Dropsy, &c. But while admitting their wonderful curative powers in difficult cases, we wish to call attention to their great value in the every-day diseases of life, such as Costiveness, for which they are a perfect specific; Headache relieved and cured by one dose; Indigestion always removed by them, and the stomach so toned and strengthened as to prevent a return. Bad Breath cannot exist when the stomach is cleansed by

BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED PILLS.



Purely Vegtable.

For Loss of Appetite they are the only sure remedy, as they never fail in carrying off the depraved bilious secretions that float in the stomach and destroy the healthy, natural craving for food. Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Flatulency, and all Derangements of the Digestive and excretory Organs, are promptly relieved and cured by them. The public should always bear in mind that Bristol's are the only Pills made of

Podophyllin and Leptandrin,

The only vegetable substances yet discovered that are really

Antibilious,

To the presence of which invaluable resinoids the extraordinary success of Bristol's Pills may in a great measure be ascribed. It is necessary, however, that the sick should always remember that in all diseases that have their origin in the blood.

BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA,

That best of blood purifiers, should be used with the Pills, the two Medicines being prepared expressly to act in harmony together. When this is done faithfully, we have no hesitation in saying that great relief, and, in most cases, a cure, can be guaranteed when the patient is not already beyond human help.

For general directions and table of doses, see the wrapper around each phial of Pills; but as different constitutions requirre different doses to produce the same effect, it is better that each person ascertain, by trial, the dose that suits their system, and take that dose, instead of following any general rule.

For Sale at all the principal Drug Stores.
